Congratulations on adopting your new best friend, from the Oregon Humane Society!

Establishing healthy habits early, will help you give your new pet the best chance at a long and happy life—and pets that receive regular veterinary care live longer. That's why scheduling a veterinary visit soon after you adopt a new pet is very important. This certificate offers you a complimentary veterinary examination at a participating clinic near you. The initial veterinary visit will help ensure that your pet has a healthy start right from the beginning, and it also helps you establish a relationship with your veterinarian that will last for the life of your pet.

To the veterinarian:

Thank you for agreeing to help pet owners and their pets get off to a great start by offering a complimentary initial examination. This certificate does not cover the administration of medications, vaccines or procedures that the pet may need. OHS will not reimburse for any medical expenses incurred.
